To download an eBook

Make sure that you have installed Adobe Digital Editions. If you haven't installed this software yet, please visit – http://www.adobe.com/products/digital-editions/download.html

And follow the installation instructions provided.

On first launch of Adobe Digital Editions click on Help > Authorize Computer*. In the following screen choose Adobe ID from the dropdown menu and enter your Adobe ID and password. If you don't have an Adobe ID yet please click on the Create an Adobe ID link on the right hand side or visit the http://www.adobe.com/go/digital-editions-createID and click on* Get an Adobe ID*.*

On the download page on your library's BorrowBox website press the Download eBook button. When you get a pop-up dialogue box asking you whether you would like to Open, Run or Save, make sure that you select Open With and choose Adobe Digital Editions. Adobe Digital Editions will then import the eBook file and you can find it in the Borrowed section on the left side.

To transfer an eBook to your Kobo -

Attach your Kobo device to your computer. It should appear in Adobe Digital Editions in the list on the left side. Now just drag the eBook onto the device.

Kindles are the only devices that are incompatible with BorrowBox as they are Amazon proprietary products. We do have a version of the app that is compatible with the Kindle Fire and this can be downloaded via the Amazon app store on their device.

https://www.borrowbox.com – see the link for Kindle Fire at the bottom of this page.